FINDINGS, CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and an order of the District Court, this case has been referred to the United States Magistrate Judge. The findings, conclusions and recommendation of the Magistrate Judge follow:

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

I. Parties

Plaintiff filed this action pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. He is incarcerated in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Correctional Institutions Division. He is proceeding pro se, and the Court has granted him permission to proceed in forma pauperis. Defendants are Attorney General Greg Abbott, District Attorney Craig Watkins, and Assistant District Attorneys Elizabeth Goettert and Laura Ann Coats.

II. Background

Plaintiff was convicted of retaliation and was sentenced to forty years imprisonment. The State of Texas v. Jackie Lee Boyd, No. F-0340675-VM (194th Dist. Ct., Dallas County, Tex. Sept. 22, 2004).

Plaintiff argues defendants violated his civil rights by unlawfully denying his state petitions for writ of habeas corpus. He also argues that the state habeas form allows a claim of insufficiency of the evidence, but the state courts unlawfully found he could not raise that claim on habeas review. Plaintiff seeks money damages.

III. Screening

Plaintiff's complaint is subject to preliminary screening under 28 U.S.C. § 1915A. That section provides in pertinent part:

The court shall review . . . as soon as practicable after docketing, a complaint in a civil action in which a prisoner seeks redress from a governmental entity or officer or employee of a governmental entity [and] [o]n review, the court shall identify cognizable claims or dismiss the complaint, or any portion of the complaint, if the complaint (1) is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted; or (2) seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from suit.

28 U.S.C. § 1915A(a) and (b); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B) (“Notwithstanding any filing fee, or any portion thereof, that may have been paid, the court shall dismiss the case at any time if the court determines that . . . (B) the action or appeal—(i) is frivolous or malicious; (ii) fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted; or (iii) seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from suit.”).

Both § 1915A(b) and § 1915(e)(2)(B) provide for sua sponte dismissal if the Court finds that the complaint is frivolous or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted. A complaint is frivolous if it lacks an arguable basis in either law or fact. Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 325 (1989). A complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted when it appears beyond doubt that the plaintiff can prove no set of facts in support of his claim that would entitle him to relief. Conley v. Gibson, 355 U.S. 41, 45-46 (1957).

IV. Discussion

Plaintiff claims Defendants wrongfully denied his state habeas petitions and failed to consider his insufficiency of the evidence claim. He seeks money damages for his incarceration. In Heck v. Humphrey, 512 U.S. 477 (1994), the Supreme Court held that a § 1983 claim attacking the constitutionality of a conviction or imprisonment does not accrue until that conviction or sentence has been “reversed on direct appeal, expunged by executive order, declared invalid by a state tribunal authorized to make such determination, or called into question by a federal court’s issuance of a writ of habeas corpus.” Heck, 512 U.S. at 486-87. Heck also bars damage claims, which, if successful, would necessarily imply the invalidity of a conviction or pending charge. Hamilton v. Lyons, 74 F.3d 99, 103 (5th Cir. 1996).

Plaintiff’s claim for damages is clearly connected to the legality of his conviction. A finding in favor of Plaintiff would imply the invalidity of his conviction. Plaintiff’s conviction, however, has not been reversed, expunged, or otherwise invalidated. Hence, no § 1983 cause of action has yet accrued and these claims should be dismissed with prejudice until the Heck conditions are met. See Johnson v. McElveen, 101 F.3d 423, 424 (5th Cir. 1996) (stating dismissal should be with prejudice until Heck conditions are met).

RECOMMENDATION

The Court recommends that Plaintiff's claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 be dismissed with prejudice until the Heck conditions are met.

Signed this 12th day of February, 2009.

PAUL D. STICKNEY
UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SERVICE AND NOTICE OF RIGHT TO APPEAL/OBJECT

The United States District Clerk shall serve a copy of these findings, conclusions and recommendation on Plaintiff by mailing a copy to him by United States Mail. Pursuant to Title 28, United States Code, Section 636(b)(1), any party who desires to object to these findings, conclusions and recommendation must serve and file written objections within ten days after being served with a copy. A party filing objections must specifically identify those findings, conclusions or recommendation to which objections are being made. The District Court need not consider frivolous, conclusory or general objections. A party's failure to file such written objections to these proposed findings, conclusions and recommendation shall bar that party from a de novo determination by the District Court. See Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 150 (1985). Additionally, any failure to file written objections to the proposed findings, conclusions and recommendation within ten days after being served with a copy shall bar the aggrieved party from appealing the factual findings and legal conclusions of the Magistrate Judge that are accepted by the District Court, except upon grounds of plain error. Douglass v. United Servs. Auto. Ass'n, 79 F.3d 1415, 1417 (5th Cir. 1996) (en banc).
